AMC Services

AMC Consultants Pty Ltd (AMC) is a leading mining consultancy, providing services focused exclusively on the minerals sector.

Our principal capabilities address two core elements – evaluation and operations – and within these, we provide a comprehensive range of consulting services to the exploration, mining and financial services industries.

Mining

AMC's mining expertise covers surface and underground mines, and commodities from base metals to gold, iron ore to mineral sands and coal to diamonds. We have a track record of assisting to develop new mines on time and within budget.

Geomechanics

AMC's geomechanical expertise covers the full range of mining methods and deposit styles from small-scale, selective narrow vein mines to the world's most productive bulk mining operations. AMC provides open pit consulting services for pitwall stability, material excavation and underground mining interaction.

Geology

Reliable mineral resource estimates during the planning phase and accurate audits at any stage of a mine's operating life-cycle play an increasingly important role in design, approval, financing, commissioning and ongoing profitability of mining projects globally.

Feasibility Studies

AMC applies a combination of our technical expertise and the experience gained on more than 4,200 assignments to provide our clients with accurate and timely reports to assist in defining the scope and feasibility of any proposed mining project.

Expert Reports

AMC provides technical audits and expert assessment reports for mining companies, insurance companies, banks and investors requiring truly independent analysis and appraisals.

Our reports entail rigorous reviews of mineral resources and ore reserves, mining proposals, economic projections, planning assumptions and where appropriate, operating and management practices.

Business Analysis & Improvement

Business Analysis and Improvement ensures both planned and operating mines achieve peak profitability throughout their life cycles. This is achieved through the identification and application of the best combination of cutoff grades, cost structures and operational systems.

AMC - The Business of Mining

Our consultants combine excellent academic qualifications, practical experience gained at the mine site and a commitment to providing our clients with attentive and expert consulting services. At any one time, a third of our consulting team may be working with clients on a mine site.

Our strength lies in the convergence of our people, our proprietary information and our independence. These complement the energy, intellect and experience we apply in providing our clients with innovative solutions.

AMC is dedicated to the business of mining.
